Gary Cerio is a senior associate at Krieg, Keller, Sloan, Reilley & Roman LLP. His litigation practice emphasizes the representation of manufacturers in the defense of product liability litigation, with a concentration in automotive product liability lawsuits. He has defended numerous manufacturers in many different kinds of product liability cases in state and federal court asserting strict liability, negligent product design and manufacture, breach of warranty, and related claims. He also has experience in complex commercial litigation, which has often involved product-related claims. He has extensive experience in all phases of litigation from its inception through conclusion, including written discovery, motion practice, depositions, expert preparation and deposition, arbitration, mediation and trial.
